Can the Blind See?

Can the eyesight be preserved? Can imperfect vision be restored? Can the aged enjoy reading as the young? Can science assist you? These are important questions. Remember that eyesight is priceless and that sight once lost can never be restored. Persons will buy a pair of cheap, imperfect spectacles, thinking it economy, not knowing that they are doing themselves irreparable injury until it is too late. The popular opinion that the use of glasses should be postponed as long as possible is erroneous. As soon as you find your sight falling go at once to a specialist and have your eyes and glasses properly fitted. An invitation is extended to those who have never been able to find glasses to suit them, and to all in need of proper lenses to visit our new Optical Department.

CITY COUNCIL

Did Not Meet Last Night Because the First Branch Members

HAD PRESSING ENGAGEMENTS

Elsewhere—Only Four of Them were on Hand when the Roll was Called—in the Second Branch there was a Quorum, but No Business was Transacted—A Special Meeting is Not Considered Necessary.

A regular meeting of the city council was to have been held last night, but it was not held for the reason that the first branch members had too much business elsewhere, at least all of them had excepting the four who appeared. In the second branch fourteen members answered the roll call when the body was called to order by Dr. Taylor, of the Fifth ward, but a minute later President Maxwell appeared and a bare quorum was on hand. As there was no promise of securing enough absentees in the first to have a quorum, the second branch adjourned without transacting business.

AMUSEMENTS.

Harry Montague, Caroline Duncan and their company, opened a two night's engagement at the Opera House last night in "My Uncle from New York." The play is a novel one and is the best and most complete picture of southern darkey life ever attempted. This production introduces a number of realistic scenes that are true to the life they depict. The typical southern darkey will be seen at the camp meeting, on the plantation picking cotton, and as the roustabout on the wharf unloading that famous old river craft, Robert E. Lee. The company is a large one, numbering fifty people. They introduce a pickaninny band of fifteen little darkeys, who appear in several scenes of the play, and also head the parade of the company, which starts from the Grand Opera House at noon to-morrow.

"The Brand of Cain" attracted another large audience to the Grand Opera House last night, and repeated the satisfaction given the night before. The play is a very good melodrama, and is presented by a good company. It will be given this afternoon and the engagement will close to-night.

Clay Clement belongs to the new school of actors. The new school is really the oldest school of all, but it is the fashion to say that the actor makes a departure whose methods are natural, whose eyes are always trained on truth, and whose greatest triumphs are the picturing of humanity as it is, and the expressing of the grandest emotions without resort to vocal or gesticulatory exaggeration. Such an actor is Clay Clement. Pre-eminent an American actor, born here, bred here and trained upon our stage, it happens that the two characters in which he has achieved his greatest successes are of the old world, namely, his own beautiful creation, the gentle Baron von Hohenstauffen, in the "New Dominion," and Matthias of Erekmann-Chatrain's weird story, "The Bells." In the former play he will be at the Opera House to-morrow night.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, consul general to Havana, has given up his proposed visit to his home in Virginia, which he had expected to make within the next few days. The determination to remain at his post is understood to be due to the reports in the United States that he was dissatisfied with his instructions and desired to be relieved. As his return might seem to give approval to the reports, the consul general determined to give up the vacation he had planned, although he is much in need of a change of scene, owing to the hardships of the Havana climate during the last six months.

Prisoners Mobbed.

CADIZ, Oct. 27.—A number of Cuban prisoners who were landed here yesterday evening were followed from the harbor to the jail by a mob. The Cubans were hissed and stoned, were thrown at them, the mob finally becoming so excited that it was with the greatest difficulty that the police landed the prisoners safely in jail.

The New Way.

Some of the best physicians who have had their eyes examined and investigated Professor Sheff's new scientific method of examining the eyes and fitting glasses without use of drugs and making the patient blind for a week, or having them look at charts, etc., or in any way depend upon the patient, is wonderful and the only absolute correct way for examining the eyes for glasses. Professor Sheff can be consulted and will examine the eyes free at 1110 Main street.

A speck looks as big as a mountain through a magnifying glass. Look at some of the store stocks of Overcoats through the columns of the daily papers and they may seem as large as ours in variety, and value, but get down to the solid truth and ours is five times bigger and better than any of them.
